

BULL MOOSE MEETING OPENS IN MILWAUKEE

THREE HUNDRED WISCONSIN FOLLOWERS OF COLONEL ROOSEVELT HOLD CONVENTION.

SPEECH BY BLOODGOOD

Progressive Party's State Chairman Attacks Business Men Who Are Hostile to Modern Reform Measures.

Milwaukee, Sept. 11.—The Wisconsin progressives met in state convention at the Hippodrome shortly after one o'clock this afternoon. The registered delegates numbering at the opening figure of 300. Organization was perfected by the naming of Wheeler P. Bloodgood of Milwaukee, as chairman.

Address By Bloodgood.

Chairman Wheeler P. Bloodgood, in opening the Wisconsin State Progressive Convention today declared that by unequal laws in matters of common concern, the forty-eight states in the union had become competing commercial agencies.

In connection, Mr. Bloodgood said, in part:

"It must appeal to everyone having knowledge of the problems facing the business interests and the people generally, of this state, because of what some term our 'advanced legislation,' that it is as grotesque as it is intolerable that the several states comprising this nation should, by unequal laws in matters of common concern, become competing commercial agencies.

"It is a matter of common knowledge that scattered all over the country are boards of trade of cities and towns in other states have urged those in control of many of our great industries, especially those located in the city of Milwaukee, to move their plants and locate outside of the state of Wisconsin.

Charges Business Men.

"This condition is not peculiar to this state, but it is an argument that is used in every state.

"It arouses the indignation of every man, with any feeling of appreciation of general responsibility to humanity, and the people about him, when he reads the arguments made when legislation is proposed to prohibit child labor. Men of the night standing in the community, and who in their own family relations are decent, and whose methods are decent, and whose statements properly carry great weight with their fellow citizens, have and dare in this country daily defeating humanitarian legislation in every state in the Union, whether it relates to child labor, or the hours of employment of women, sanitary and factory regulations, by the argument that is now worn, 'that the material interests of the state in which the legislation is proposed will be injuriously affected, because they will be at a disadvantage in competition. A statewide campaign has just been carried on in this state, involving this issue, although ostensibly directed against the income tax.

"Views With Alarm."

"Important business questions of control of railroads and transportation facilities are and viewing with alarm, as we must, the tremendous economic waste and almost ludicrous situations that have arisen in connection with the efforts of the states and government to control them, they sink into insignificance when compared with the situation we face today on account of the conflict of laws between the several states, involving in the words of the platform of this party—the bartering of the lives of our children, the health of our women, and the safety and well-being of our people."

United States Senator Poindexter of Washington addressed the gathering. He declared that the third party was organized to protect the interests of the people against certain classes who were favored by legislation. He urged the people of Wisconsin to support the party which represented principles which the state of Wisconsin had adopted in the past few years.

After making his trip through Illinois he decided to rest here and cancelled all his morning engagements in Wisconsin. Senator Poindexter went ahead to keep the engagements. It was stated Gov. CHARGE OFFICIALS
WITH COMPLICITY

Complaints Filed Against Officers of West Hammond in Virginia—Brook's Vice Crusade.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—As a result of Miss Virginia Brook's charges that in West Hammond, Ill., vice has been allowed to flourish, that offenders have been released by authorities and that men have met mysterious deaths in resorts there, formal complaints and charges of malfeasance in office, extortion and conspiracy were filed today in the county court against Justice Frank Green of West Hammond, Justice Wittenburg of Burgham, a nearby village. An additional charge of embezzlement has been made against Green for his alleged failure to turn over to the public funds of $163 collected in fines. Both justices are to appear before Judge John E. Owens tomorrow.

Woman in Confession.

Paul Folson employed by the office of the clerk of the county court was arrested with the woman after she had charged her lured victims for the plot. A number of women's diamond rings were found in Folson's pockets.

CITY OF MANITOWOC FACES BAD TANGLE

Mayor and City Administration Clash Over Purchase of Lighting Plant and Building of School.

Manitowoc, Sept. 11.—A clash between Mayor Stolze and the city administration and the city school board is imminent as the result of the school board's move to secure a site for a new central high school and advocate immediate building. Mayor Stolze, who has just broached a plan to take over the electric lighting plant is said to accuse the school board of bad faith and an attempt to defeat the project by springing a new central school plant at this time.

Both propositions will necessitate bond issues and the city cannot handle the two at this time owing to having just issued $200,000 for a city water plant and being near its bond limit. The school board reports an enrollment of 443 in the high school and says the present building is inadequate.

TROUBLE CONTINUES AT DULUTH STRIKE

Quiet This Morning Follows Night of Rioting But Situation is Still Far From Settlement.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 11.—At seven this morning all was quiet in the city. Strikers and strike sympathizers had retired after a night of more or less confusion with rioting in the west end. Some cars are running today. Once during the night the men got beyond the control of the police and they were obliged to ask for the aid of the sheriff. Rioters bombarded the cars, attacking the cars with rocks and fought with the police.

At nightfall, owing to the violence shown by the strikers, the company decided to abandon car service. During the night many were injured by missiles thrown by the rioters. Manager Warren of the car company was felled with a stone. His condition is not serious. Stones thrown through the windows of the cars made riding extremely dangerous.

Early today the car men on the Superior-Wisconsin line joined the strikers. The Duluth Merchants' association have asked for arbitration of the trouble.

BECKER'S COUNSEL ANXIOUS FOR DELAY

Trial of New York Police Lieutenant Scheduled for Tomorrow Before Judge Gaff.

New York City, Sept. 11.—District Attorney Whitman is ready to bring to trial tomorrow Lieutenant Charles Becker, now in the Tombs charged with having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, on July 15th, by hired gun men. The case will come before Justice Gaff in the criminal court, a branch of the superior court.

Counsel for Becker are trying hard to prevent the opening of the trial and it is expected that they will try to get a stay of proceedings on the ground that the deposition of three witnesses in Hot Springs, Ark., are needed in the case. These witnesses, they claim, will give information regarding Sam Schepp that will make him a witness for the defense.

The trial of Becker, which is expected to unfold tales of the New York underworld hitherto undreamed of by the general public, though familiar enough, perhaps, to the Ten-Cent habitues, has put every resident of the metropolis in the tiptoe of expectation. The Molineux case, the Nan Patterson case, even the Thaw case might be recalled in vain to find anything approaching a parallel to the amount and depth of the public interest that now centers in the case of the accused police lieutenant.

The cause for this extraordinary display of public interest is not difficult to find. Back of the murder are believed to lie crimes of an even more serious character, crimes that affect directly or indirectly every citizen of New York. It is in this phase of the case that public interest centers—the possibility, or probability, that the trial of Rosenthal's alleged murderer will reveal the secrets of police extortion and lead to a more complete exposure of the so-called "system" than ever could have been brought about by the testimony that Rosenthal threatened to lay before the grand jury.

FISH HATCHERIES
NEARLY COMPLETED

Two New Hatcheries at Sturgeon Bay and Sheboygan Costing $7,000 Each, Almost Ready.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 11.—The two new state fish hatcheries at Sturgeon Bay and Sheboygan will be completed Oct. 1, and will be in operation a month later, according to the statement of James Nevin, state fish commissioner today. Each of these hatcheries have been built at a cost of from $7,000 to $8,000. At nearly all of the other six hatcheries of the state improvements have been made this year. The wooden dam and sluiceways have been removed to be replaced by concrete. The Sheboygan and Sturgeon Bay hatcheries will be used for lake trout and white fish.

"We have just finished our work on the Mississippi river," said Mr. Nevin. "All of the little bays and enclosed inland water along the river have been scooped out for fish before the winter season set in. The fish have been shipped into the main channel of the Mississippi. If this were not done as soon as these shallow ponds froze over these fish would be suffocated. At least 2,000,000 fish have been scooped out of these ponds in the last few weeks."

According to Mr. Nevin there are more fish in Lake Winnebago than in any other lake or river in the state. He attributes this to the fact that the lake is shallow and is a good feeding ground. He says that all of the fish caught along the Fox river down to Green Bay come from this one source.

CANDIDATE DEFINES CAMPAIGN PHRASES

Woodrow Wilson Draws Distinction Between Campaign "Tours" and "Trips" For Newspaper Men.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson, while traveling from Atlantic City to Jersey City drew the distinction between a campaign "tour" and "trip." Earlier in the campaign the governor had announced they would make no "speaking tours" of the country, but would fill a number of engagements on particular occasions.

"The difference," said the candidate with a smile, "is that a tour means a sweep of an entire section of the country, while a trip simply is going to a certain place or number of places and coming back home again. It's just like a baseball game. I take a trip around the bases, make a home run and step up to the plate again after a little rest and make some more runs. It is not like a track meet where you are running around all the time. That's a tour."

The governor's first western trip is to begin Sept. 16 and will end Sept. 23 at Scranton, Pa.

Detroit, Sept. 11.—Speaking of the subject, "The Money-Trust Inquiry," George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago, today declared, "If a banker can be forced to disclose a confidential relationship between his bank and its customer, it would require but a short step further to capitalize for the gratification of prejudice the confidences between an attorney and his client as well as the secrets of the confessionals."

The autopsy performed on the exhumed body of the Sozba woman showed that her windpipe had been wrenched out of place and that the superficial appearance of her internal organs was such as to cause surgeons to retain them for microscopic examination and for chemical analysis. Lawyer Gibson said he would return to this city from his summer home today to await any possible arrest.

REBELS PLAN ATTACK

Word Sent Demanding Surrender of Augua Prieta—Rebels Take Another City—Pillaging Parties Ravage the Country.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 11.—The demand for the surrender of Augua Prieta was brought into the city by John Scott, an American, who first was taken prisoner by Rojas and liberated on condition that he bring the rebel commander's challenge to the federal convention. Scott said Rojas has 900 well armed and well equipped men at Cuahuila, twelve miles south of Auga Prieta.

Renewed Activity.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Reports from the south of Mexico indicate serious conditions there. Renewed rebel activity is reported from Guamajuto, Michoacan and Joliska where there are daily engagements between federals and rebel bands. The rebels are said to show increasing boldness.

Pillaging Parties.

New York, Sept. 11.—A formal statement was issued by the executive officers of the Southern Pacific railway declaring that bodies of rebels varying from 100 to 3,000 were pillaging northern Mexico cutting telegraph wires and burning the railway bridges. The company has asked the United States government to protect its property in Mexico.

Bridges Burned.

More than two miles of bridges have been burned during the past ten days according to telegrams received by the company. In one instance the rebels captured a railway train, loaded the passengers into one coach, carried it to within seven miles of Naco and dropped it into the town of Gracety. The locomotive was then disabled. The telegrams, five in number, have been placed before the state department at Washington.

Threatens Attack.

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 11.—The rebel leader, Col. Antonio Rojas, formally demanded the surrender today of Augua Prieta. Unless the town is surrendered within 24 hours, Rojas declared he would attack it with 1,000 men. The federal garrisons numbered 200.

Are Still Undecided.

Washington, Sept. 11.—There is a possibility that the Mexican federals may not be entrained at El Paso, after all. Officials here are reluctant to give the rebels the advantage of knowing in advance where the federals will enter the United States, the time of their entrainment, or at what point they are likely to recross into Mexico.

It had been planned to take them from El Paso to Douglas, but there is an intimation that this plan may not be carried out. The supply of rifles and ammunition which the United States is attempting to place in the hands of American colonists in northern Mexico for their own protection was reported today detained at Warren, north of Naco.

Rebel activity all along the boundary west of El Paso was reported today to the war department.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Brigadier General Steever's dispatch of last night, telling of the battle of Ojinaga, gave no mention of the surrender of the federal garrison, but to the contrary reports the rebels repulsed. Gen. Steever reports the situation on the American side of the line quiet.

Brigadier General Schuyler, from Fort Huachuaca, Arizona, reported many rebels just across the border. His last night's dispatch says a force of 700 men under Rojas and Campa disabled a train south of Naco and took possession of San Pedro, covering the Del Rio railway which they disabled. They threatened to dynamite bridges on the line if any effort were made to repair the railway.

Statements purporting to come by telephone from Cannonera report the federal garrison there has been strengthened.

Federals Surrender.

Marfa, Tex., Sept. 11.—The federal garrison at Ojinaga, Mexico, opposite Presidio, Texas, surrendered to the rebels yesterday at 5 p. m., according to advices received today from Ojinaga, 50 miles from here. General Sanchez in command of the federal force was in Presidio at the time of the surrender trying to get more ammunition for his men.

IRA U. FISHER DIES EARLY THIS MORNING

EX-SHERIFF OF ROCK COUNTY PASSES AWAY AT HOME OF HIS DAUGHTER.

WAS ILL FOUR WEEKS

Heart Failure Immediate Cause of Death—Had Large Acquaintance And Host of Friends In County.

Ira U. Fisher, Sheriff of Rock county in 1907 and 1908 and one of its best known and most highly esteemed citizens died at 8:30 o'clock this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Dixon, in the town of Center.

EX-SHERIFF IRA U. FISHER.

The news of his death was received with surprise by many of his friends, who had been encouraged by reports of an improvement in his condition, and brought forth exclamations of poignant regret and sorrow from all his hearers. Mr. Fisher was surrounded by all the members of his family at the time of his death. His friend, Chief of Police Appleby was able to reach his bedside just half an hour before he passed away.

For the last four weeks Mr. Fisher had been ill and confined to his bed with cerebral thrombosis, an obstruction of a blood vessel in the head by a clot. He had not been able to be up for more than a few minutes at a time. Four or five days ago he appeared to be improving, and his physician entertained hopes for his recovery, but heart complications set in, and he suffered sinking spells, through which he gradually became weaker. He was partially conscious a short time before his death. Last winter Mr. Fisher was troubled with an affliction in his head but became very much better, being able to work on his farm during the early summer.

Ira U. Fisher was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, who were among the earliest settlers in the town of Center. He was born on the old homestead, March 10, 1856, and lived there until his marriage to Miss Charlotte Bailey, August 9, 1879. There were born to them four children, three of whom are living. They are, Mrs. Will Dixon of the town of Center and Glen and Edwin Fisher, living at home. One son, Lee Fisher died three years ago.

For six years after his marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher lived at Evansville, serving as deputy sheriff under Sheriffs George Appleby and William Appleby. He was elected as Sheriff of Rock County in 1907, and in that office served the county faithfully and creditably. All who shared his acquaintance testify to his kindness of heart, integrity, and sturdy virtues. Mr. Fisher was a Mason and a Knight Templar and member of the Order of Moose.

Surviving him are his wife and three children, two brothers, John, of the town of Center, and Sylvanus of Brodhead; and two sisters, Mrs. Sina Schrader of this city, and Mrs. Lewis Howe of Rockville. Funeral services will be held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Dixon in Center township at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Rev. Father Henry Willmann will read the service. Interment will be made in Bethel cemetery.

MATRIMONIAL.

Crouse-Wooden.
Word has been received from Los Angeles, Cal., of the marriage of Miss Mildred Lorene Crouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Crouse, formerly of this city, to William Bradford Wooden. The ceremony was performed today at the Crouse home in Los Angeles. The bride was graduated from the Janesville high school in the class of 1901. Mr. and Mrs. Wooden will make their home in San Diego, Cal., where the groom is engaged in business.

High School Principal Discusses Existence of Infantile Paralysis and Says There is No Danger.

Principal H. C. Buell clearly outlined the cause of the present contagious disease to the students, at the opening exercises this morning. He stated that local physicians thought it wise to open school today and did not see why there should be any worry on the part of the students. Only three or four cases are reported in the city, and unless it becomes worse school will go on as usual. The three lower classes were given their new seats this noon at the close of school. It was difficult to resist them because of the absence of so many students this morning.

Serious Kidney Disease Treated By an Old-Fashioned Doctor

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

In 1860 I was practicing medicine in Millersville, Pennsylvania, a thriving farming community. A prominent citizen of that locality called at my office one day in a very feeble condition. So much so he had to be assisted in alighting from his wagon.

I found on questioning him that he had been afflicted for about two years. He had consulted various doctors, among them a specialist from Philadelphia. They pronounced his disease to be Bright's disease of the kidneys. He was gradually falling in strength, losing flesh rapidly, and altogether presented a very pitiable spectacle, the remnant of a once strong and happy man.

I had been treating a neighbor of his successfully. This neighbor had highly recommended me and thus it was he had come to me.

He told me that the doctors had practically given up his case as hopeless and he felt free to consult any other physician. I hesitated to take the case, as I felt sure I could not do anything more than the other physicians had done. I told him so, yet he insisted upon my prescribing. I was a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, and as one of the consulting physicians had been a professor in that college it seemed to me quite unlikely that I would be able to do any more than had been done, but I prescribed what seemed to be the best thing under the circumstances.

He went away and in a week he returned saying he was no better, that he was still losing ground. He judged that he had taken the same medicine before. No doubt he had. But he wished me to prescribe again. I did so.

This went on for about two months the patient failing all the time, and I was becoming thoroughly discouraged with the case.

One day the patient said to me, "Doctor, why don't you give me the medicine you gave my neighbor?" We all thought he would die, but your medicine you gave my neighbor? We came to you. Why not give me the same medicine you gave him?"

"But," I said, "your neighbor did not have kidney disease. It was a bowel complaint that I prescribed for in his case. I remember I gave him the Neutralizing Mixture that I make a great deal of use of in bowel diseases."

"Well, I want some of the same medicine you gave him. It worked wonders with him and I believe it will with me."

"But," I said, "this is not a medicine for kidney disease."

"Well, since you seem to be like the rest of the doctors, you cannot help me, why not try the medicine that helped my neighbor?"

After some hesitation I concluded to give him a bottle of it. In ten days he returned. He at once began to berate me in no complimentary words, saying:

"You knew very well this medicine would help me. You held it back merely to get more fees for treating me. From the first the medicine has helped me and I have made rapid improvement. If I could have had this medicine a year ago I should have been saved a great deal of expense and loss of time."

I replied that I was glad the medicine had helped him. I was somewhat confused by his brusque manner and rough speech. I gave him another bottle of medicine. Did not see him again for about three weeks. Once more he called at my office for another bottle of medicine, which was his last call. A month or so afterwards a neighbor of his called and got a bottle of the same medicine, saying that my patient was practically a well man, attending to his duties about his large farm.

I had given him the Neutralizing Mixture which was a remedy that I had used before only for bowel diseases. The same remedy that has since been sold under the name of Peruna. I could not quite understand how it was that Peruna should operate so beneficially in such seemingly different diseases. I had not yet grasped the correct philosophy of disease. I did not then clearly comprehend that catarrh may effect the kidneys as well as the bowels. Nothing of that sort was taught in the books in those days. It took me years before I clearly comprehended that catarrh was a disease liable to attack any organ of the body.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membranes. The mucous membranes line every organ, duct and cavity in the body. Thus it is catarrh may settle anywhere where there is a mucous membrane.

Peruna is my remedy for all these cases. I insist upon it, however, that Peruna is not a cure-all. I use it for just one class of diseases. But as catarrh is liable to affect so many different places, disturb so many different functions, derange so many different organs, it does seem to many people as if I regarded Peruna as a cure-all.

The above narrative is simply one of the many cases in my early practice that brought me to comprehend the wonderful efficacy of Peruna in such a variety of diseases. The kidneys may be affected by other diseases than catarrh, but the average case of kidney disease is catarrh of the kidneys. All cases of Bright's disease begin with catarrh of the kidneys. This being true, and it also being true that Peruna is a catarrh remedy, it follows that a great many cases of kidney disease would be benefited by Peruna. Peruna is for sale at all drug stores.

Special Notice—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now put out under the name of KA-TAR-NO, manufactured by KA-TAR-NO Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

STATE SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND OPENED

Work of Coming School Year Commenced Today With Seventy-Seven Students Enrolled.

Today marked the formal opening of school at the State School for the Blind for the coming year and the organization of classes in the various departments at the institution was commenced. The enrollment for the opening day was seventy-seven, but this number will be increased as a number of the students have not yet returned from their homes. The school opened with practically the same teaching force as last year, with three exceptions. Miss Martha Whitman of Platteville is here and commenced her duties in the newly-established department of domestic science, and Joseph Preston of this city has taken charge of the classes taught by Mr. Roepka of Milwaukee in the work department. Miss Harkins, instructor in the vocal department has resigned, but as yet her place has not been filled.

MANY JANESVILLE PEOPLE ATTENDING STATE FAIR.

About One Hundred and Seventy-five From This City Went in On Trains to Milwaukee Today.

Nearly one hundred and seventy-five people from Janesville were in Milwaukee today attending the state fair. Over the Northwestern railroad a special train was run this morning from Beloit via Janesville to Milwaukee, and on this train sixty local people took passage. Besides this, about forty went to the fair on the regular morning train on the Northwestern. The business to Milwaukee over the St. Paul railroad this morning was also very good, and on the two regular morning trains, about seventy-five people from Janesville were passengers. Both trains carried extra coaches and all the cars were well filled. The volume of business is very good, considering the fact that neither railroad offers any inducements in the way of reduced fares to the travelers.

Among the number from this city who went to Milwaukee were: Secretary F. E. Lane of the Commercial club, Frank Strickler, Walter Standard, Thomas S. Welch, John Flodger, Carl Hines, Hurd Wixson and Philip Doheny.

The central league will not be a twelve club circuit next year. That much has been determined upon, and the big question now is which cities will compose the membership of eight. Janesville is out of it already, and Canton is doubtful. If the eastern cities of Youngstown, Erie, Springfield and Wheeling take the lead in forming a compact circuit for their section of the territory, Terra Haute and perhaps South Bend and Grand Rapids will drop out.

Heinie Zimmerman of Chicago still has a big lead over his nearest competitor for batting honors in the National league. Zim has an average of .330. Sweetener of Boston, who is the next best hitter in the league, has a batting of .350.

There are no such sluggers in the National league as there are in the American. Just look at Ty Cobb; he has a batting average of .413. Tris Speaker has second honors with a percentage of .394. Jo Jackson of Cleveland has a batting average of .374, which is almost as good as the national league's best.

Speaking of batting averages, Jim Delehanty of the Minneapolis team in the American association (has ever) body beaten. His percentage to date is .438. However, Delehanty's record should not be taken too seriously, as he has only played in 19 games.

Pitcher Ritchie of the Chicago Cubs is now a few points ahead of Rube Marquard in the pitchers' records. Marquard went mighty strong for a few weeks, but his pace has slackened considerably. Cheney of Chicago and Tesreau of New York are running neck and neck for third place in the pitchers' records. They have a percentage of about .725.

The ball players' union has become a reality. It was organized in New York by Bobby Byrne of the Pirates, Bill Carrigan of the Red Sox, Ty Cobb of the Tigers, Jake Daubert of Brooklyn, Mike Doolan of Philadelphia, Johnny Evers of the Cubs, Dave Fultz, former Yankee, Art Griggs of the Naps, John Henry of Washington, Miller Huggins of the Cardinals, Christy Mathewson of the Giants, Derrill Pratt of the Browns, Ed Sweeney of the Yankees, and Bill Sweeney of Boston Nationals.

This ball players' union will be quite different from the ordinary union. It won't countenance strikes, and was organized for the purpose of bringing players closer to the management rather than getting them farther away.

Paul Kohler of Cleveland, on September 19, will start on his chase for the welterweight championship of the world, by boxing Jack Goodman, king of the eastern welters, at New York. Kohler has whipped Matty Baldwin, Kid Graves, Young Otto, Willie Ritchie, Frankie Madden and Wildcat Ferns. He holds draws with Ray Brown and Eddie Murphy and McFarland. Pat Moore has seen Kohler work out and thinks well of him. "Why that fellow can whip anything New York or Philadelphia has turned out in years," said Moore recently. "Those boys our way would be a pipe for him. He's strong for a few weeks, but his pace has slackened considerably. Cheney

BASEBALL NOTES.

Marsans continues to lead the Cincinnati Reds in batting. The Cuban has developed into a polished player this season.

Daubert and Wheat are playing the regular brand for Brooklyn, and stand well up among the select in the batting averages.

Ean Johnson says that Eddie Foster, of the Washington team, is the best baseman in the American League.

Pitcher William Jensen, of the New Haven team, one of the stars of the Connecticut League, has been sold to the Detroit Tigers.

It is said that Pittsburgh will send either King, Cole or Eddie Warner to Columbus in part payment for Pitchers Sisler and Cooper.

The pitching staff of the Giants is pretty wobbly and will have to take a brace if the McGrawites expect to cop the big series.

The Highlanders have been velvet carpeted stairs for the Red Sox this season. The Sox have won 16 out of the 17 games played with the Yanks.

Not satisfied with putting the Senators out of the pennant hunt, the Athletics wallowed Walter Johnson for good measure, during the last visit to Washington.

Eppa Rixey is pitching great ball for the Quakers, and several National League teams are hoping that Eppa's family will hurry up and kidnap him.

If the White Sox and the Cubs play a series for the Chicago City champ-

JINK AND DINK

Team last fall, will report to make a place on the line. Deloit will lose one valuable man in "Squire" Dahlgren, star tackle and punter of last year. But with most of their men back, it is likely a fast team will be rounded into shape before the first game is played.

GRIDIRON WARRIORS IN FIRST PRACTICE

Thirty Candidates for High School Eleven on Hand for Initial Try-out of Year.

Owing to the fact that the members of the high school football team could not get their suits at the school Monday, practice was suspended. However, the men made up for lost time when they reported for practice at four o'clock this afternoon. Light work was given the candidates to allow their muscles and bones a chance to get limbered up. Felling on the ball was the chief exercise. About thirty men were on hand.

A letter was sent to West Side high school at Milwaukee, asking for a game, and this team, if beaten, will give the locals a fighting chance for high honors, as this Milwaukee school boasts one of the strongest teams in the state. Eight games have been asked for and the schedule will be announced in the near future.

JANESVILLE HORSES ENTERED AT MADISON

Fast Animals Owned by Phil. Sheridan And C. S. Putnam Will Contend For Honors.

Three Janesville horses have been entered in the races which will be held in connection with the Dane county fair at Madison next week. Josie McKinney, owned by C. S. Putnam, is entered with six other horses in the 2:30 class trot, purse $100 scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 19, and Josie C., also owned by Mr. Putnam, is entered in the 2:30 pace on Wednesday. Ray Rex, formerly owned by E. Ray Lloyd of this city, but now the property of D. J. Fenderson of Ripon, is also entered in the latter race. Peter Emmet, owned by Phil Sheridan, is entered with 22 others in the 2:24 class pace, purse $1,000, on Thursday.

KORST AFTER PLACE ON BELOIT ELEVEN

Star Halfback on Janesville High School Team Out for Practice With College Squad.

Beloit college will open its football season this year with several new men in the line-up. Prospects are exceedingly bright, at least indications are such by the good showing made at their first practice held at Beloit on Keep field Monday afternoon. Raw material is available for almost every position, and it is certain some new men will be given a chance to make good from the start. It is of interest to know that Donald Korst star halfback for three years on the local high school eleven, and who enters Beloit this fall, reported for practice on Monday. He will work hard to gain a place on the team, as he has strong men against him.

Ward, a former Waukesha high school star, who played on the Beloit varsity last fall at right halfback, will play again this fall. Landing, picked last year as an all-state halfback, is on the firing line again. With these two men back in the backfield, it will make Korst run, but fans are hoping he will gain a place before the season closes.

DINNER STORIES

Mrs. Hamilton Fish Webster at a luncheon in Newport said of a young girl who had just returned from Paris: "She studied, you know, under De Reszke. They tell a story about her. One afternoon in presence of the whole class she sang an aria of Puccini's. All the while she was singing the maestro walked 'up' and 'down' muttering 'Mon Dieu! Peste! and such like expressions. When she finished everybody looked at him' expectantly, anxious to hear the final verdict. Mr. de Reszke strode up to the girl, laid his hand on her shoulder in a gentle, fatherly way, and delivered his verdict in a murmur: 'Ma chere, he said 'marry soon, Goodbye.'"

Mr. Evans told Lord Coleridge, when they were at Mount Vernon the legend of Washington throwing a dollar across the Rappahannock. "But," objected Coleridge, "the Rappahannock's a broad stream." "Yes," reported Mr. Evans, "but a dollar went further in those days." At a dinner party this story was related as Mr. Evans' best.

"Oh," said Mr. Evans, modestly, "I don't say all the good things credited to me. Now that I might have said was this it was not so strange across a river since he threw a sovereign across the sea."

When Whistler was living in the Latin quarter in his youth a friend took him to task for his idleness. "Why don't you pitch in and paint something?" said the friend. "Pretty soon your money will be all gone, and those three rolls of canvass will still be standing empty there behind the door. Just as they've been standing for the last six weeks!" Whistler, as he lay on the bed smoking his pipe, answered lazily: "But you see, as long as there's nothing on the canvass I can sell it." Rowland Hill, when some persons

BUNTY PULLS THE STRINGS.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings," the eminently successful Scotch comedy that has set London, New York and Chicago "Bunty" mad, will give Janesville theatregoers a lesson in Scotch diplomacy on Tuesday, Sept. 17, when it plays a limited engagement at the Myers Theatre.

"Bunty" Biggar is the moving spirit of the play. She is a politician to her finger tips and handles the matter in hand so cleverly that it is a joy forever. The play is one of Bonnie Scotland, laid in the early Sixties and deals with puritanical days, when the true churchman kept his window shades tightly drawn on Sunday, whistling was a demeanor, and no levity ever disturbed the solemnity of the day. "Bunty" smoothes out the wrinkles when her brother "Toby" foomles his Catechism and makes a get-away to Glasgow to see the "Sights." She saves her father from the clutches of an old maid who would marry him, and arranges his wedding to an old flame, whom he deserted years before, marries herself to "Weelam" Sprunt, a local carpenter, and does all so delightfully clever, which keeps the audience in a merry mood.

WOMAN TO ATTEMPT HYDROPLANE FLIGHT

Miss Blanche Scott of International Fame to Attempt Flight Over English Channel in Hydro-aeroplane.

Undaunted by the sight of a sister-aviator dashed to death from an aeroplane while she herself soared at the dizzy height of 3000 feet, Miss Blanche Stewart Scott, internationally famous as a trans-continental automobile and air pilot, is to try for a new woman's record. She will attempt a flight of the English Channel in a hydro-aeroplane within a few days.

Though it was only after three sickening attempts that Miss Scott was able to land her biplane when Miss Harriet Quimby was killed at a Boston aviation meet, a few weeks ago and though the former collapsed, nerve-racked and hysterical when her machine finally reached the earth, her indomitable spirit would not allow her to give up the flying game. Within a week after the accident Miss Scott was in the air again and she is now about to undertake a very difficult feat, the navigation of the treacherous air currents above the English Channel, which have proved the Waterloo of many an intrepid flyer.

Miss Scott's first experience in the thrilling life she has chosen came in 1903 when she drove an automobile from New York to San Francisco. This was at a time when women automobile drivers, even on the streets of quiet villages and cities, were as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. The route chosen for the transcontinental tour took the young woman over more than 3000 miles of every kind of road imaginable; mud and mountains, desert and prairie. The trip was one to tax the endurance of a strong man, but Miss Scott, favored by a car which gave an excellent account of itself during the whole run, devoted her entire energy to driving and maneuvering for the best highway and came through with flying colors.

From automobile driving to aviation was only a short step for a woman of Miss Scott's attainments and will-power, and she has taken her place among famous flyers of the world.

"Women are in the forefront of nearly everything; why shouldn't they take the honors in flying?" smiled Miss Scott in a recent interview. "Whether its vote-getting or voliplanning, woman have demonstrated their ability and taken the places which are theirs by right."

"When I first attracted attention by driving an automobile from ocean to ocean, it looked like a stupendous task for a woman. It was the same when I took up flying. But I think I have shown the world in both cases that I am able to take care of myself."

Miss Scott, several months ago, challenged Miss Quimby to a competitive flight for altitude and endurance. Miss Quimby refused, declaring her rival held no aviator's license either in Europe or the United States. She consented to fly in the Exhibition Meet in Boston with Miss Scott, however, and it was while traveling with a passenger there that Miss Quimby met her fatal accident.

NO PATCHES ON MY PANTS.

Oh! yes, I've heard about the trusts, Of how the wicked tariff, too, Is "robbing" every one. But I am working every day, And maybe you, perchance, Have noticed that I haven't got A patch upon my pants?

They tell me that I am a "slave" Of "plutocratic" rule; That I should vote for Wilson, and The party of the mule; That he will rip the tariff up And on the pieces dance; But, please observe, I do not wear A patch upon my pants.

Once I was led astray; I think It was in 'ninety-two, When Cleveland ran for President; I shouted for him, too; Thought there'd be work for ev'ryone, And wages would advance. He was elected and I wore Big patches on my pants.

I lost my job, and couldn't get Another thing to do. I walked the street and ev'rywhere Souphouses met my view; And there were thousands, just like me.

All fighting for a chance To earn their bread, and ev'ry man Wore patches on his pants.

I will not vote for Wilson; no, With him I don't agree. As for his party, well, kind sir, Once was enough for me. I've steady work, I have good pay, And you may note; perchance, I'm wearing creases now, instead Of patches on my pants.

The author of this homely patch-work poem was one of the boys of '93 who tramped the country with the Coxey army and boarded at the public soup houses. He has no desire to repeat the experience, and therefore has no use for the free trade party. His suggestive advice is worth heeding.

ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN.

The late John Hay, secretary of state, under President McKinley, and one of the brightest men of his day, gave the following advice to young men. It was written some years ago, but applies to present conditions. Many young men will cast their first ballot this year, and the republican party merits their support. Mr. Hay was a life-long republican. He says: "I want to say a word to the young men whose political life is just beginning—

"Anyone entering business would be glad of the chance to become one of an established firm with years of success behind it.

"Everything great done by this country in the last 50 years has been done under the auspices of the republican party. Is not this a price-less asset?

"Lincoln and Grant, Hayes and Garfield, Harrison and McKinley—names secure in the heaven of fame—they are all gone, leaving small estates in worldly goods, but what vast possessions in principles, memories, sacred associations! It is a start in life to share that wealth.

"But what young man would not rather belong to the party that does things, instead of one that opposes them; to the party that looks up, rather than down; to the party of the dawn, rather than of the sunset?

"For fifty years the republican party has believed in the country and labored for it in hope and joy; "Has revered the flag and followed it;

"Has carried it out under strange skies, and planted it on far receding horizons;

"Has seen the nation grow greater every year and more respected;

"Has seen the country extend its intercourse and its influence to regions unknown to our fathers;

"Yet it has never abated one jot or tittle of the ancient law imposed on us by God-fearing ancestors. The Constitution of our fathers has been the light to our feet. Our path is, and will ever remain, that of ordered progress, of liberty under the law.

"But we are not daunted by progress. We are not afraid of the light! The fabric our fathers builded will stand all shocks of fate or fortune.

"While there will always be a proud pleasure in looking back on the history they made, the coming generation has the right to anticipate work not less important.

"We who are passing off the stage bid you, as the children of Israel encamping by the sea were bidden, to go forward. We whose hands can no longer hold the flaming torch pass it on to you that its clear light may show the truth to the ages that are to come."

The railroads of the country can hardly be expected to furnish excursion rates in states where the two cent fare law is in force. The increased cost of material, and liberal advance in wages, with no chance for advancing freight rates, has reduced profits and in many cases the balance is on the wrong side of the ledger.

There are so many factional leaders just now in Mexico, that it is difficult for the United States government to locate responsibility for outrages committed on American citizens.

zens. Our troops are on the border ready to enter the country at a moment's notice. Mexico needs a second Diaz.

The effort to smoke McGovern out and compel him to declare himself as either a progressive or republican, is likely to be successful and will tend to clarify Wisconsin politics. The Bull Moose convention in Milwaukee is one of the features of the state fair, but it is not likely to create much enthusiasm for the new party. The Badger state has a progressive of its own, who is very jealous of his preserve.

The new primary law in Colorado failed to interest the voters and less than one-third of them turned out to vote yesterday. The progressive sentiment is not very pronounced, and Taft will carry the state at the November election.

Why some saloon licenses are not revoked, for violation of law, is a question that is troubling many law-abiding citizens. It is time for the city to organize a civic committee to back the commission and inspire it with backbone when necessary.

A St. Louis progressive daily has "given up the ghost" after a month's trial, and the 1,000 paid in advance subscribers are looking to the leaders of the new party for reimbursement.

Miss Blanche A. Dennison and John T. Mitchell, both popular young people of Lake Villa, Ill., were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace Carman, 209 Fourth avenue, at seven-thirty o'clock last evening. Dr. David Beaton read the marriage service.

The bride was attired in white and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses. She is the daughter of George Dennison, formerly of Edgerton, Wis., where she was graduated from the high school in 1906. Since that time she has been a very successful teacher in the Illinois schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left last evening for a short trip to Wabasha, Minn., and will be at home to their many friends after October 1st.

Cultivate a Gentle Voice.

I would say to all: use your gentlest voice at home. Watch it day by day as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you in days to come than the best pearl hid in the sea. A kind voice is a joy, like a lark's song, to a hearth at home. Train it to sweet tones now and it will keep in tune through life.—Ellhu Burritt.

Fruit and Vegetable Juices.

Fruit and vegetable juices, on account of their organic salts, are of great value as cleansers and in the elimination of waste water from the system. It is always best to remove pulp of fruit before eating, as the cellular walls are indigestible and fill the system with waste matter. It is always the cellular walls that cause indigestion and not the fruit juice.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

Some Hot Weather Verse.
Oh, hear the sleighbells ringing,
A most delightful sound,
The beautiful snow is falling
And blanketing the ground.
The kitchen pipes are freezing—
The plumber's on the way,
Seems like old-fashioned winter
Has come this time to stay.

Oh, hear the wheels all squeaking
Upon the frozen snow,
The whiskers of the drivers
Are freezing as they go.
Stoke up the hot air furnace,
Pile quilts upon the bed,
The mercury is droppin',
So cover up your head.

A good old-fashioned winter,
The first since '69,
The kinds that makes a feller
Feel full of life and fine.
I say there's nothing like it,
To make the red blood flow;
I love it crisp and snappy
And twenty-five below.

Satisfied.
I'm only a commonplace
Sort of a job,
I've got no false notions and
I'm not a snob
Who has no ambition to Raise any hob.
No bees buzzes 'round my old
Ivory knob.
For more worlds to conquer I
Never do sob.
In peace and contentment I
Smoke my old cob.
I'm thankful T. R. isn't
After MY job.

A Letter from the Seashore.
Dear Husband:
I take my pen in hand to let you know that we are well;
That life is one long dream in this resort hotel.
The girls and I have spent the coin you gave us when we came.
You didn't give us half enough to keep us with the game.
You'll have to send two hundred more. There is no doubt of it.
We hope this letter finds you well and happy. Please remit.

The breezes by the shore are fine.
The girls are feeling great.
They've had fifteen proposals each and splendid ones to date.
The aristocracy is here and searching for its health.
Our health is all we could desire, but we are shy on wealth.
If I don't get some boodle soon I'm going to have a fit.
We've had no check for most a week; dear husband, please remit.

This is a very pretty place. The boating is immense.
The tennis courts are up-to-date. The foliage is dense.
The bathing beach in perfect, and you will be glad to know
We're having such a lovely time.
We're always on the go.
We're sorry for you, husband dear, but sure admire your grit
In staying up in town this kind of weather. Please remit.

There are some lovely people here.
The table fare is fine.
We wish that you could be here, too, with your fishpole and line.
Be sure and take care of the house, and do not work too hard.
And do not fail to feed the cats. Be sure and mow the yard.
We're sorry for you, but if you place value on your life,
Send that two hundred by next mail.
So long, your loving wife.

Will Give Lecture TO COUNTY FARMERS

Annual Meeting at County Farm is Scheduled for Next Thursday, September 19.

On Thursday, September 19, at the asylum farm near Janesville, Suppl. Earlless, Prof. Norgard, Prof. Ocock and other prominent men will hold a meeting of all interested Rock county farmers to inspect and discuss the crops raised here in co-operation with the College of Agriculture. Questions on the work will be freely answered and the whole object of the meeting is to show what may be done by careful farming.

A new barn and silo will illustrate remarks by Prof. Ocock, alfalfa, corn, grains, silage, weed eradication, crop rotation, etc., will be discussed.

The farmers' corn test at Reedsburg showed an average stand of 50 per cent due largely to faulty method of picking and storing seed. One man told Prof. Norgard that he learned his seed corn lesson at the meeting last year and his corn this year germinated 100 per cent.

Following is the program for Janesville next Thursday:

1. The production and handling of alfalfa.
2. Soil acidity and the use of lime to correct it.
3. The growing and making of silage.
4. The production and dissemination of pure bred seeds.
5. Crop rotations and systems of farming.
6. The eradication of quack grass, Canada thistles and other noxious weeds.
7. The planning and construction of model barns and silos.

Plots on College farm used to breed grains which are raised this year on the Janesville asylum farm.

Jesus Saves

1st Epistle John 1:5-10.

5 "This then is the message which we have heard of Him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in Him is no darkness at all.

6 If we say that we have fellowship with Him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth.

7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

9 If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make Him a liar, and His word is not in us.

MAKE LAST PAYMENT TOWARD NEW BRIDGE

Clerk Directed To Draw Order For $6,300 In Favor Of Central States Bridge Company.

By action of the City Council taken yesterday afternoon, the City Clerk was directed to draw an order on the City Treasurer, payable to the Central States Bridge Company in the sum of $6,300, this amount being due on the contract for the construction of the Fourth Avenue bridge. From this amount was to be subtracted $550, as recommended by the Board of Public Works. The Board, when making its inspection found that something had been overlooked on the underside of the bridge, and $50 of the money withheld is to cover the expense of remedying that defect. The rest will be held out until some minor adjustments are made. The contract price of the bridge was $21,850.

The Board of Public Works reported on the final settlement with Rink & Schnell of Clinton, Iowa, for the construction of the brick pavement on North Academy street from Milwaukee street to the Northwestern tracks. Five hundred dollars had been retained from the payment as a guarantee that the work would remain in satisfactory condition after the frost was out of ground this spring. Owing to the unfavorable weather conditions under which the work was done, some unequal settlement of the pavement had occurred, particularly at the intersection with Walnut street. After conference with a member of the firm it was agreed that the city should remedy the defect and that the sum of $125 be retained from the balance due the contractor to cover the cost. The City Clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of Rink & Schnell for $528.58, payable from the First Ward fund, the amount due the contractors for work after deducting the amount retained in the agreement which includes the sum of $125.58, previously recommended.

The City Treasurer was directed by the Council to transfer $230.50 from the First Ward fund to the General Fund to reimburse the latter for the use of the road roller and storm water inlet charged to Rink & Schnell. Superintendent of Streets Milmore was directed to repair South Central Avenue, Monterey bridge, and State street.

GAME WARDENS MAKE TWO MORE ARRESTS

Greek Railway Laborers Plead Guilty And Pay Fines For Hunting Without A License.

Nicholas Bron and Stankias Koras, Greek railway laborers, employed by the Northwestern railway plead guilty in the municipal court this morning to hunting without a license in the town of Janesville and were each fined $25 and costs, amounting to $27.50. The arrests were made yesterday by Deputy Game Wardens William P. Mason and W. P. Elliott of Whitewater. As the foreman of the laborers, who was to act as their interpreter, was late in arriving, a Janesville Greek volunteered his services as interpreter until he arrived. Bron admitted that he had been out hunting twice. Koras at first claimed that he had only been shooting at a mark and entered a plea of "not guilty." On the arrival of the foreman he asked to change his plea. Both men paid their fines. The foreman says that he had warned the men that it was unlawful for them to go hunting without a permit, but that they had disregarded his caution. He was anxious that the practice of fraying be stopped as his men neglect their work for it. Game Warden Mason asked him to inform his workmen that they must not shoot the song birds under any conditions.

PENSION INCREASES WILL COME SLOWLY

Wisconsin Veterans Must Wait Eight Or Nine Months Before All Will Realize Increased Payments.

According to information received from C. R. Boardman, Adj. Gen. of Wisconsin, by Col. E. O. Kimberley of this city, it will be eight or nine months before all the Wisconsin veterans will realize the increased pension payments under the law of May 11, 1912. There has been considerable interest among local veterans as to the probable time of receiving the pensions under the new scale. The delay results from the large number of applications which have been received.

General Boardman made the following answer to Col. Kimberley's letter of inquiry:

Madison, Wis., Sept. 10, 1912.
Dear Sir:—There have been 145,000 (four hundred and fifty thousand) applications filed under May 11th law, and the department has only been able to adjudicate about 1,000 (one thousand) a day, so you can readily see it will take a long time. The Commission inform me that they will be taken in order of their filing in the department. Look at your receipt and you can judge somewhat when yours will be reached.

Yours respectfully,
C. R. Boardman,
Adj. General.

HOSPITAL FINANCE COMMITTEE TO MEET

Thirteen Janesville Citizens in Charge of Hospital Finances Will Meet Thursday Evening.

A meeting of the committee of Janesville business men, who have consented to act as a committee for the new hospital now being erected by the Sisters of Mercy, will hold a meeting at the mayor's office at the city hall Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The committee is composed of the following members: Mayor James A. Falters, J. C. Nichols, N. L. Carle, Michael Hayes, W. S. Jeffries, D. Ryan, George Sutherland, W. H. Dougherty, John Sweeney, S. B. Heddes, Dennis Hayes and J. G. Rexford.

The purpose of the meeting as outlined, is to devise means of raising $16,000 in the city toward the building of the new hospital.

In discussing the matter today one of the Sisters said: "The citizens of Madison have raised $25,000 and have handed the same over to the Sisters of St. Mary, and surely Janesville ought to come forward and do as much, if not more, for the Sisters of Mercy, who are struggling hard to put up a modern and up-to-date hospital for the sole benefit and comfort of the citizens of Janesville."

OVER FOUR HUNDRED HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

Attendance Today Not Affected By Fear of Epidemic—Exceeds Enrollment For Same Time Year Ago.

Four hundred and ten pupils are enrolled in the Janesville high school, from ten to fifteen more than were enrolled at the same time a year ago. The total attendance last year was 425, and it is probable that this figure will be equalled, if not exceeded. Attendance today did not appear to have been decreased by fear of an epidemic of infantile paralysis, as over four hundred pupils were present. The high school girl who is afflicted with the disease has it in a very mild form.

NEW STORE CONTINUES UNDER OLD NAME

Brown Brothers' Shoe Store To Be Operated By the Younger Brown Brothers.

For many years the stand on the bridge, known as Brown Bros., has been identified with the shoe business of Rock County. From a small beginning it grew and grew until it was the foremost shoe business in this part of the state. Through the able management of the elder two Browns, their knowledge of the shoe business, the courtesy and service they gave at all times, they had established a policy that brought them hosts of customer—friends. At the untimely taking off of Mr. H. W. Brown, some months ago, the stock of this shoe store became involved in the settling of the estate and it was decided to hold a sale to turn the stock into cash. The sale was a tremendous success. Hundreds and hundreds of people took advantage of the money saving prices to buy high grade shoes.

Now the estate has been settled and it has been decided to continue the business under the old firm name of Brown Bros. Mr. Ted Brown will be actively engaged in the management of the store while his brother, Leo, will maintain an interest.

Mr. Ted Brown is peculiarly fitted to carry on the work of running this store. Possessed of thorough knowledge of the shoe business both in the buying and selling end and through years of association with the business he has a fund of experience that all the patrons of the store appreciate.

A complete stock of the finest quality shoes that the markets afford have been ordered for the Fall and Winter trade and Mr. Brown expects that the store will do this season a larger business than any Autumn season in its long history.

Drink a Cup of Blessing Every Day

WHEN the statement that the mind has a most potent effect upon the body was first put forward, the assertion was generally met with scoffing and disbelief. But nevertheless, belief in the truth of it has been gradually growing. From many fields—scientific, religious, medical, metaphysical—have come proofs. And now it does seem that if we will, we can help ourselves forward on the road to success and happiness more surely by mental means than by physical ones.

And since evidence from many quarters seems to be proving the truth of this, even though one may not exactly believe it, why not try it? Why not drink a "cup of blessing" every day, for the refreshment of the spirit, and then watch the effect of this upon the body? If the dicta of science and religion and metaphysics and certain fields of medicine are true—and they can't all be wrong—there will soon be seen upon us a marked improvement physically. And since the experiment costs nothing and cannot do harm, even though it does no good, the experiment is worth making any way just for its own sake.

And according to a noted writer, one way to drink this cup of blessing is never to lose an opportunity to see something beautiful. Note and enjoy the beauty in every fair face, every fair sky, every fair flower; drink it in simply and earnestly with all your eyes, and let your mind rove from the beauty before you to the Author of all loveliness and then back to yourself and the fact that this same mind is working, or will work, in you to create all perfection.

Do this every day. If necessary, make yourself do it at first. Take a flower and dwell upon its loveliness. Or look at the sky and the stars and let their beauty sink in. Almost unconsciously there will come a peace, a tranquillity, an uplifting of the spirit, and a grasp of higher, bigger things that give inspiration and courage and the desire to do.

And particularly try this experiment if you are depressed, discouraged, despondent. It may require some will power to make the effort. You may have to force your thoughts from their present low plane to the higher. But make yourself do it. Take the flower and gaze at it. Look at the sky, and let its message sink in. You must hold the cup of blessing to your lips and drink it. Nothing will force it down your throat. But when it is there for you, why not partake of its refreshment?

HOUSEHOLD TALKS

by Henrietta D. Grauel

September finds the housewife with the small fruits and berries well out of the way and the real labor of preserving the bulk of the summer bounty confronting her.

Miss Kate Monnell, graduate lecturer on home science and a recognized national authority on culinary affairs, gives the following pointers to readers of this column whose efforts in canning have not always been successful.

"What causes my fruit to ferment?" "Why do my vegetables spoil in the jars?" are questions I am constantly asked," says Miss Monnell. "The secret of canning and preserving lies in complete sterilization. The water, the air, all fruits and vegetables everything is teeming with bacteria; these germs are the cause of decay, and it is only necessary to kill them to prevent decay. The first requisite is a good jar; glass is most satisfactory, for tin is more or less soluble in the juices of fruits and vegetables. Even tin cans that are lacquered on the inside are open to this objection. Perhaps the ordinary screw top jar is the one in most common use because it is lowest in price, but it is the most expensive in the long run for the breakage is greater than when a better grade of jar is used and the tops furnish excellent harboring places for germs, which makes sterilization difficult. The screw top lids must be purchased fresh almost every year.

"The best jar by actual test is one with a rubber ring and a glass top lid held in place by a simple rubber ring. There are several brands of these on the market and they are low in price.

"A supply of jars does cost something, but this should be charged to future years as a careful housekeeper need rarely break a jar.

"To do most often spoil after sterilization because of defective rubbers. It is poor economy to buy cheap rubbers, and they must never be used a second time. Black rubber is more elastic and durable than white.

"With good jars, tight fitting lids and new rubbers, there is no reason why the most delicately flavored vegetables like okra, lima beans, asparagus and corn, may not be canned successfully in the home kitchen.

"The first step is in the selection of and preparation of the articles to be canned. Never attempt to can vegetables that have matured on those that have commenced to decay. Generally young vegetables are better in flavor and superior in texture to the older ones. Especially is this true of those mentioned above.

"Corn is considered one of the difficult vegetables to can, but this is a wrong impression. Cut the corn from the ears with a sharp knife, pack the jar full, add salt to taste. A teaspoonful is usually sufficient. Fill the jar to the brim with cold water. Put the rubber ring on the lid; but do not fasten the lid tightly.

"Put as many jars in the boiler steamer, canner or oven as the receptacle will hold, leaving space between them. Add water to cover the bottom of the steamer or boiler and keep it boiling for an hour.

"Now fasten the lids securely, cool the jars and the following day return them to the boiler, again loosen the lids and cook for two hours longer, when sterilization will be complete. If after a few days the contents of the jars show signs of deterioration they may be placed again in the canner and be sterilized again.

"String beans, okra, peas, asparagus tips, succotash, lima beans, all can be canned in the same way as corn. Thorough cooking in sterilized jars is the whole secret.

"Kohlrabi, cauliflower, tomatoes, pumpkin, egg-plant and beets require preliminary cooking.

"After the jars have been sterilized and tested keep them in a dark place as the sunlight will discolor the vegetables."

Pertinent Suggestions on the care of the little ones during the hot months.

Personal replies will be given at no cost when stamped envelope is sent with question. Address all questions to Dr. Smith, care the Daily Gazette.

PARENTHOOD.

This is a big subject and should be discussed at length; but perhaps enough can be said in a few words to set the readers thinking in the right direction. If so, the object will have been accomplished.

It has been aptly said that the care of the child should commence before it is born. There is no doubt that the mother can do much during the time before the child is born, by giving attention to such matters as proper food, clothing, exercise, bathing, rest and sleep, not only to make herself more comfortable, but to insure the healthy growth and development of her child.

It is not necessary to discuss in detail each one of these things, an expectant mother should or should not do. Any sensible woman knows that she should not wear laced garments; she knows that she can eat wholesome foods that agree with her, to neither fast nor feast, nor exercise until she is unduly fatigued, or lounge and sleep overmuch.

Women differ in physical and mental make-up, and the same conditions and methods do not prevail in all households. For this reason, what to do and what not to do, could only be mentioned in a general way.

Fatherhood, as a subject, has received very little discussion by writers. It seems to be considered a subject of very little importance. Public sentiment seems to sanction the practice of placing all the details and responsibility of rearing healthy and intelligent children upon the shoulders of the mother. Results show that she has done, and is doing, a remarkably good job, considering the obstacles, social and political, which are ever present.

Has it ever occurred to any of the readers to observe how much time and care a successful breeder of thoroughbred stock will devote to those animals which are set aside to become fathers and mothers. How they are given the best of everything in the way of food, shelter, and general care? Does he show the same intelligence, care, and solicitude toward himself and she who is to be mother of his children? Do people in general give the matter any serious thought? Why not devote a little time and study to bringing into the world thoroughlybred boys and girls? An entirely personal matter, of course. Well, may be it is, and may be it isn't. If any favors are to be shown in the way of education of future fathers and mothers, they should be bestowed upon the future mothers, for after all it is the mother who is supreme.

"We must all be agreed," says Sir Francis Galton, "as to the propriety of breeding, if it be possible, for health, energy and ability, whatever else may be doubtful."

Commenting upon this statement, Salley says: "To this I would add that, whether we are agreed or not, we must breed for motherhood, and that, even if we do not, we shall have to reckon with it." Continuing he says: "The requirements which we should make of both sexes, the mothers of the future as well as the fathers, are essentially identical, but it seems to me that we have not yet reckoned with the vast importance of motherhood, and its absolute supremacy, inevitable, and persistent whether recognized or ignored, in the case of man."

"Any system of eugenics or race-culture, any system of government, any proposal for social reform—as for instance the reduction of infant mortality—which fails to reckon with motherhood or fails short adequately appraising it, is foredoomed to failure, and will continue to fail so long as the basal facts of human nature and the development of the human individual remain approximately their present character."

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

ON THE BURNING QUESTION.

DO YOU believe in Woman Suffrage?

I do not think I could tell you how many times that question has been put to me by my letter friends. Hicerto I have not made any response to it because I was afraid that the editors might think I was trying to usurp their functions in thus taking sides on a political question. I am only a woman, you know, and am not supposed to have opinions on such things. Recently, however, I have turned the matter over in my mind and come to the conclusion that there is no reason why anyone should think my opinion has anything to do with the policy of the paper, and hence no reason for any editor, no matter how differently he feels, to object to this expression of my humble opinion.

The grounds on which I ask for woman suffrage are simply those of abstract justice.

Now please do not tell me that a woman is represented by her husband or father. Why should she be content with that any more than a grown man would be content to be represented by his father or his brother. Criminals, paupers, feeble-minded and women are refused the right to vote. I can see good reason for refusing the vote to the first three classes, but none for denying it to an intelligent woman.

Some of the anti-suffragists who do not quite care to claim that women are an inferior race, put it this way—Yes, I admit that men and women are not, but they are different. Surely my friends, I freely admit that. But I cannot, for my life, see why the difference is one that affects the matter of voting, any more than it affects woman's ability to learn to read, for instance. Though, come to think of it, not so very long ago there were people who argued that a woman's brain was so peculiarly constructed that it wasn't even capable of that.

The only possible argument against woman suffrage that I can see is that it never has been and therefore never should be. Once upon a time there was a minister who preached against women wearing gay clothes. Said this wise person, "If the Lord had meant you to wear pink and blue and crimson He would have made pink and blue and crimson sheep."

When I hear anyone arguing that if it were best that women should vote they would have always voted, and that because they don't vote now, they never should, I think of that minister.

We laugh at such things as that today. Tomorrow my friend—and not such a distant tomorrow either you'll be wondering why anyone ever through the question of sex had anything to do with the right to vote.

Heart and Home Problems

by MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson—Which is correct to say: "I need a pair of corsets," or "I need a corset?"

The latter.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—(1)—What is a nice wedding gift at small expense? (2)—What kind of a dress would be nice to wear to a wedding? (3)—My husband has been working nights for the last ten years and is always complaining of not feeling well. Do you think it is healthy to work nights and don't you think he deserves a day job soon?

ANXIOUS WIFE.

(1)—Any small piece of silver or cut glass. (2)—If you are a guest, any pretty gown that you have will do. (3)—Perhaps he needs a tonic or a change of his food. It might be a good idea for him to get a doctor's advice. Night work ought not to be harmful if he takes care of his health, though, of course, a day job is much nicer for both him and his family.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I am near eighteen years old and have been engaged to a young man eleven months. He is the second young man I ever went with. I went with the first about two months but he is dead now. No one knows we are engaged and I do not think this young man treats me right. He does not come when he says he will and he does not see me for weeks at a time—I know it is not his work for he does not work on Sundays. When he does see me he says he means to marry me.

I am getting worried, for you know he has kissed me and many little things that would not have been— you know how it is with an engaged couple. I have heard he is going with another girl. I don't want ALL his time of course.

If you think it right to break the engagement I will do it and be very slow and sure and older before I promise another man, as you can see I was only a child when I promised him. He is past twenty-one. I think if I was to marry him I would be very unhappy.

EVERYBODY'S FRIEND.

It seems to me, my dear, that neither of you care very much for the other any more. Better break such an engagement. Next time do not permit any secrecy. Have the engagement announced at once, and don't allow too many liberties to your fiancé.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I am a girl of eighteen and am in love with a young gentleman three years my senior. We have been going together three months and he told me if he ever saw me with a different fellow he wouldn't go with me any more. One day I met a friend and walked down the street with him. My fellow saw me and we haven't been going together since. Please advise me whether I should go to see him or drop him a letter.

UNHAPPY.

The man isn't worth worrying about. If he should marry you he will make you a great deal more unhappy than you are now and you won't be able to help yourself. You've got the best chance in the world to get rid of him. For goodness' sake, don't cheapen yourself by either going to see him or writing him. If he really loved you he wouldn't act as he does.

A WOMAN'S OBSERVATIONS

handling of the machine and upon "getting there." There is not that feeling of aloneness, with something big and wonderful and yet very close and dear.

More ground is covered, to be sure. Distances are achieved and wide landscape views are scanned. But more is learned and enjoyed in a five-mile stroll—a willful wandering about roads and fields and woods than in any 35-mile dash between towns.

When I think of the blessings we have close at hand, even if we're not blessed with much of mundane cash, I wonder that so many of us persist in being discontented.

Happiness consists really in enjoying that which we have, and in recognizing how much we have. The poorest of us have the roads to walk in and the right to look at and enjoy the results of other's wealth.

It costs nothing to walk through the parks, to live under a tree and watch saucy little white clouds scudding across the sky.

We don't have to pay any fee to walk along the outside of the high iron fence that incloses the mansion and beautiful grounds of old Glaston. It's ours for the looking at, and we don't have to worry about the expense of keeping it up.

BEETS PROVE BEST CROP FOR NORTHERN FARMERS.

Owing to Surplus of Wet Weather Sugar Beets Are Only Crop Which Has Not Been Badly Damaged.

Reports received from the northern part of Wisconsin, and the upper peninsula of Michigan state that the beet crop has been the only crop which was not seriously damaged by the prolonged rainy weather of the present summer. In all localities with the exception of a few very low fields the crop has been surprisingly thrifty and the crop is rapidly maturing. With weather continuing favorably it is possible that the northern factories will begin operations the first of next month, or a few days earlier than usual.

THE ANSWER TO EVERY WOMAN'S QUESTION

"Can I Make Myself Beautiful?"

"Certainly Says Valeska Suratt, the Venus of the American Stage, Famous for Her Self-Made Beauty. She Has Demonstrated to Thousands That It Is Easily Possible to Improve Vastly Even Upon Nature Herself."

In this article, Miss Suratt, after an absence of several weeks in preparation for her theatrical engagements during the coming season, returns to the beauty-chats and revelations of her own secrets of beauty which have been received with such intense enthusiasm by the readers of this newspaper.

ERADICATOR OF WRINKLES.

DISHEARTENED—Your husband is right. It is you and every other woman's duty to preserve the charms which nature first gave you. No man likes to see wrinkles on a woman's face, nor ought it to be so. Use the following formula and you will be surprised at the result on crow's feet, wrinkles and deep lines.

Your one-half pint of very hot water, not boiling, in a large bowl. Place the bowl in a pan of water on a slow fire. In a few minutes add two ounces of equal and continue stirring until all is dissolved. At first it will look like jelly, then it will start to cream. When this comes it is from the fire, and does not indicate the failure of the formula. Stir constantly until cold. Then keep it in an air-tight jar. You should be able to get out of all good things and it should not cost you more than fifty cents.

Apply this cream every morning with the fingers. After the face has been washed with soap thoroughly with warm water and soap. Plaster your face very liberally all over with it, around the eyes, on the forehead, on the sides of the mouth, everywhere. After you have applied it, don't merely rub your face all over as though you were handling a bar of soap, but lift up the flesh in your fingers and pinch it, squeeze it, roll it. Do this for a few minutes, until the cream disappears. Then apply your complexion powder.

BUST DEVELOPER.

CELLA—A woman should not lose her figure, because she becomes the mother. A faithful attention to herself will not only retain but bring back the development she may have lost by using the following very effective formula.

In a half-pint of cold water, dissolve two ounces of saltpetre and half a cup of sugar and mix together. Of this take two teaspoonfuls three or four times a day in a wine-glass of water, after your meals. The medicine will cost you one dollar at the drug store. You will assist the development a great deal by massaging the bust with the spot formula given above to "Disheartened."

DIRT IS DEATH TO HAIR.

MRS. R. L. O.—I have never had to wear switches, rats or puffs. Besides a hair tonic as a nourisher, it is necessary to keep the scalp absolutely clean. For this I use the following which cannot be scraped as a shampoo. It takes out the scalp scales and dandruff, cleans out the scalp pores and lets the hair breathe new life.

It also makes the hair fluffy and silky. Dissolve one teaspoonful of egg in half a cup of hot water. When entirely dissolved add a little salt and mix thoroughly. Rub your hair with the shampoo in the usual manner.

"If eyes were made for seeing, then Beauty's own excuse for being."

—Emerson

It makes an excellent hair tonic. It is really wonderful in its action, destroying hair completely in a few moments. Many women have more hair than they can use, and they do not realize what a wonderful difference it makes in their appearance if this down, even light as it may be, were removed.

On a dry day, use one ounce of simple saline solution. It will cost you one dollar, but it will last you quite a while. Apply this solution freely with the finger tips on the hair you want removed. Keep the hair moist with it until it has actually dissolved. This will take but two or three minutes. Then wipe off with a warm damp cloth and wash the skin with warm water.

This hair remover may be used on the toughest skin. Use this and no one will ever know you use a hair remover.

LARGE PORES.

JANET—I never advocate the steaming of the face, but it has a strong tendency to make the pores habitually large and it makes the skin coarse. It does more to enlarge the pores than anything I know of. You will find the formula given to "Disheartened" ideal for putting an end to this condition. Vigorous circular massage, frequent rinsing of the face is necessary in this case. Be sure to use a very liberal amount of the preparation. Keep it up for a reasonable time and you will see a very marked difference.

Sallow Complexion and Pimples.

MRS. A. L. S.—A sallow or muddy complexion can be easily gotten rid of by using the following formula:

Dissolve twelve ounces of granulated sugar in one-half pint of water, and add one ounce of sarsaparilla and mix the whole together thoroughly then add more water to make a pint. Sarsaparilla is a liquid which you can get at the drug store by the ounce. Get it in the original package. Take one or two teaspoonfuls of this mixture three or four times a day. A little water if desired. This is absolutely safe.

You should never attempt to pick on your face with your fingers. It always makes them worse.

PRAIRIE CHICKENS
ABUNDANT IN STATE

More Plentiful Than in Many Years
Past—Protected in Rock County
Until 1915—Ducks Scarce.

Prairie chickens are more abundant in the state this fall than in many years past according to Game Warden William Mason. Their food has been plentiful, their cover good, and conditions generally favorable to their increase. The drained marshes, such as the Evansville marsh, make good brooding grounds for the chickens. The ground is dry enough for nesting, and the grass sufficiently long to conceal the chicks from their natural enemies. Warden Mason predicts that if the prairie chickens and quail in the protected counties, Rock included are not molested until 1915, when the protection expires, the hunting will be the finest in fifteen years. Those who wish to hunt chickens this year will have plenty of opportunities as there are thirty-nine counties in the state where they can be shot between September 10 and October 1.

Quail were badly thinned out last winter by the excessive cold and the covering of their natural food by snow. Partridges are said to be very numerous in the northern part of the state, but are scarce, almost to the point of extinction in this region.

Wild ducks have suffered much through the flooding of their nests by high water. There will be little duck hunting until the ducks from the far north begin to migrate south. Good shooting is reported on the Horicon marsh. Deer are reported to be very numerous in the northern woods.

SIDEWALK
KETCHES.

WHY WHO'S WHO.

(By Howard L. Rana.)

WE desire to congratulate the Hon. Tyrus Cobb, alias the Detroit base ball team, upon his recent narrow escape from fatal perforation. Those of our readers who prefer the pink sheet to the Home Dressmaking department will not have any trouble in locating Tyrus. He will generally be found at the top of the batting averages or hugging the leaders without a y shame whatever.

A few days ago Tyrus was set upon by three total strangers and entirely surrounded. He had left his right flank exposed, while his left was drawn in a threatening attitude nearby. But did Tyrus call for reinforcements? He did not. Throwing himself rapidly in the form of a hollow square he fired with both fists with so much success that he utterly shattered the enemy's esprit de corps and loosened several expensive teeth. Tyrus was not injured in any vital spot except his feelings.

Tyrus is a member of an ancient Roman family, and when enraged speaks the dead language with great fluency, hurling long, obsolete words at the unquipped in a strange tongue; a fine, square jawed physique which he throws from base to base like a human humming bird.

Tyrus usually goes on the field surrounded by eight innocent bystanders with machine turned legs, some of whom show human intelligence. This makes an effective combination, as they are not called upon to furnish anything except scenery.

Tyrus is a hearty eater, and subsists mainly upon Texas leaguers, line drives and shoestring catches. He also eats up wild pitches with the utmost avidity. Whenever Tyrus comes to bat with the bases full, the opposing pitcher shuts his eyes and trusts to a kind merciful providence. Tyrus Cobb is a credit to the animal kingdom and the greatest little base hitter in either hemisphere. Without him Detroit would have about as much show as a one-armed man in a round dance.

"You've never seen me before, have you, Miss Cannon?" said Berny. "You don't know who I am?"

The young girl shook her head with an air of embarrassed admission. "I'm afraid I don't," she said. "I've never met you before, it must have been a long time ago."

"You've never met me," said Berny, "but I guess you've heard of me. I am the wife of Dominick Ryan."

She said the words easily, but her eyes were lit with devouring fires as they fastened on the young woman's face. Upon this, signs of perturbation immediately displayed themselves. For a moment Rose was shaken beyond speech. She flushed to her hair, and her eyes dropped. To a jealous observation, she looked confused, trapped, guilty.

"Really," she said after the first moment of a shock, "I—I really don't think I ever did meet you." With her face crimson she raised her eyes and looked at her companion. "If I have, I must have forgotten it."

"You haven't," said Berny, "but you've met my husband."

Rose's color did not fade, but this time she did not avert her eyes. Pride and social training had come to her aid. She answered quietly and with something of dignity.

"Yes, I met Mr. Ryan at Antelope when we were snowed up there. I suppose he's told you all about it?"

"No," said Berny, her voice beginning to vibrate, "he hasn't told me all about it. He's told just as much as he thought I ought to know."

Her glance, riveted on Rose's face, contained a fierce antagonism that was like an illumination of hatred shining through her speech. "He didn't think it necessary to tell me everything that happened up there, Miss Cannon."

Rose turned half from her without answering. The action was like that of a child which shrinks from the angry face of punishment. Berny leaned forward that she might still see her and went on.

"He couldn't tell me all that happened up at Antelope. There are some things that it wouldn't have done for him to tell me. A man doesn't tell his wife about his affairs with other women. But sometimes, Miss Cannon, she finds them out."

Rose turned suddenly upon her. "Mrs. Ryan," she said in a cold, authoritative voice, "what do you want to say to me? You stopped me just now to say something. Whatever it is, say it and say it out."

Berny's rages invariably worked themselves out on the same lines. With battle boiling within her, she could preserve up to a certain point a specious, outward calm. Then suddenly, at some slight, harmless word, some touch as light as the pressure on the electric button that sets off the dynamite explosion, the bonds of her wrath were broken and it burst into expression. Now her enforced restraint was torn into shreds, and she cried, her voice quivering with passion, shaken with breathlessness:

"What do you suppose I want to say? I want to ask you what right you've got to try to steal my husband?"

"I have no right," said Rose. Berny was, for the moment, so taken aback that she said nothing but stared with her whole face set in a rigidity of fierce attention. After a moment's quivering amaze she burst out:

"Then what are you doing it for?" "I am not doing it."

"You're a liar," she cried furiously. "You're worse than a liar. You're a thief. You're trying to get him every way you know how. You sit there looking at me with a face like a little innocent, and you know there's not a thing you can do to get him away from me you're not doing. If a common gutter girl had acted that way they'd call her some pretty dirty names, names that would make you sit up if you thought any one would use them to you. But I don't see where there's any difference. You think because you're rich and on top of the heap that you can do anything. Just let me tell you, Miss Rose Cannon, you can't steal Dominick Ryan from me. You may be Bill Cannon's daughter, with all the mines of the Comstock behind you, but you can't buy my husband."

Rose was aghast. The words of Berny's outburst were nothing to her, sound and fury, the madness of a jealous woman. That this was a loving wife fighting for the husband whose heart she had lost was all she understood and heard. That was the tragic, the appalling thought. The weight of her own guilty conscience seemed dragging her down into sickening silence. The only thing it seemed to her she could honestly say was to refute the woman's accusations that Dominick was being stolen from her. "Mrs. Ryan," she implored, "what ever else you may think, do please understand that I am not trying to take your husband away from you. You're making a mistake. I don't know what you've heard or guessed, but you're distracting yourself without any necessity. How could I ever do that? I never met him. I never see him."

She leaned forward in her eagerness. Berny cast a biting, sidelong look at her.

"How about Sunday morning on Telegraph Hill?" she said. "I did meet him there, that's true."—A memory of the conversation augmented the young girl's sense of guilt. It half this woman said was madness, half was fact. Dominick loved Rose Cannon, not his wife, and to Rose that was the whole tragedy. Meetings, words, renunciations were nothing. She stammered in her misery.

"Yes—but—but you must believe me when I tell you that that time and once before—one evening in the moonlight on the steps of our house—were the only times I've seen your husband since I came back from Antelope."

"Well, I don't," said Berny. "I don't for a moment believe you. You must take me for the earliest fruit that ever grew on the tree if you think I'll swallow a fairy tale like that. If you met once on Telegraph Hill, and once in the moonlight, what's to prevent your meeting at other times, and other places? You haven't mentioned the visits up at your house and the dinner to-night."

Rose drew back, frowning uncomprehendingly. "What dinner to-night?" she said.

"The one you're going to take with my husband."

For the first time in the interview, the young girl was lifted from the sense of dishonesty that crushed her by a rising flood of angry pride.

"I take dinner with my father to-night in our house on California Street," she said coldly.

"Bosh!" said Berny, giving her head a furious jerk. "You needn't bother wasting time on lies like that to me. I'm not a complete fool."

"Mrs. Ryan," said Rose, "I think we'd better end this talk. We can't have any rational conversation when you keep telling me what I say is a lie. I am sorry you feel so badly, and I wish I could say something to you that you'd believe. All I can do to ease your mind is to assure you that I never, except on those two occasions, have seen your husband since his return from the country and I certainly never intend to see him again."

She rose from the bench and, as she did so, Berny cried:

"Then how do you account for the money that was offered me yesterday?"

"Money?" said the young girl, pausing as she stood. "What money?"

"The three hundred thousand dollars that your father offered me yesterday afternoon to leave my husband and let him get a divorce from me."

Rose sat down on the bench and turned a startled face on the speaker.

"Tell me that again," she said. "I don't quite understand it."

Berny gave a little dry laugh. "Oh, as many times as you like," she said with her most ironical air of politeness, "only I should think it would be rather stale news to you by this time. Yesterday afternoon your father made me his third offer to desert my husband and force him to divorce me at the end of a year. The offers have gone up from fifty thousand dollars—that was the first one, and all these things considered, I thought it was pretty mean—to the three hundred thousand dollars they tried me with yesterday. Mrs. Ryan was supposed to have made the first offer, but your father did the offering."

This last time he had to come out and show me his hand and admit that one-third of the money was from him." She turned and looked at Rose with a cool, imperturbable impudence. "It's good to have rich parents, isn't it?"

Rose stared back without answering. She had become very pale. "That," said Berny, giving her head a judicial nod, and, delivering her words with a sort of impersonal suaveness, "is the way it was managed; you were kept carefully out. I wasn't supposed to know there was a lady in the case, but of course I did. You can't negotiate the sale of a husband as you do that of a piece of real estate, especially when his wife objects. That, Miss Cannon, was the difficulty. While all you people were so anxious to buy, I was not willing to sell. It takes two to make a bargain."

Rose, pale now to her lips, said in a low voice:

"I don't believe it. It's not true."

Berny laughed again. "Well, that's only fair," she said with an air of debonaire largeness. "I've been telling you what you say is lies and now you tell me what I say is lies. It's not, and you know it's not. How would I have found out about all this? Do you think Dominick told me? Men don't tell their wives when they want to get rid of them. They're stupid, but they're not that stupid."

Rose gave a low exclamation and turned her head away. Berny was waiting for a second denial of her statements, when the young girl rose to her feet, saying in a horrified murmur:

"How awful! How perfectly awful!"

"Of course," Berny continued, addressing her back, "I was to understand you didn't know anything about it. I had my own opinions on that. Fathers don't go round buying husbands for their daughters unless they know their daughters are dead set on having the husbands. Bill Cannon was not trying to get Dominick away from me just because he wanted to be philanthropic. Neither was Mrs. Ryan. You're the kind of wife she wanted for her boy, just as Dominick's the husband your father'd like for you. So you stood back and let the old people do the dirty work. You—"

Rose turned quickly, sat down on the edge of the bench, and leaned toward the speaker. Her face was full of a quivering intensity of concern.

"You poor, unfortunate woman!" she said in a shaken voice, and laid her hand on Berny's knee.

Berny was so astonished that for a moment she had no words, but stared uncomprehending, still alertly suspicious.

"You poor soul!" Rose went on. "If I'd known or guessed for a moment I'd have spoken differently. I can't say anything. I didn't know. I couldn't have guessed. It's the most horrible thing I ever heard of. It's too—too—"

She stopped, biting her lip. Berny saw that she was unable to command her voice, though she had no appearance of tears. Her face looked quite different from what it had at the beginning of the interview. All its amiable, rosy softness was gone. The elder woman was too astonished to say anything. She had a feeling that, just for that moment, nothing could be said. She was silenced by something that she did not understand. Like an amazed child she stared at Rose, baffled, confused, a little awed. After a minute of silence, the young

"I can't talk about it. I don't altogether understand. Other people—they must explain. I've been—no, not deceived—but kept in the dark. But be sure of one thing, yesterday was the end of it. They'll never—no one that I have any power over—will ever make you such offers again. I'll promise you that. I don't know how it could have happened. There's been a mistake, a horrible, unforgivable mistake. You've been wronged and insulted, and I'm sorry, sorry and humiliated and ashamed. There are no words—"

She stopped again with a gesture of helpless indignation and disgust, and rose to her feet. Berny, through the darkness of her stunned astonishment, realized that she was shaken by feelings she could not express.

"You didn't know anything about it then," the wife said sullenly, wanting still to be defiant and finding all her defiance overwhelmed by an invading sensation of feeling small, mean and contemptible.

"Know it?" said the girl, letting a glance of scorn touch the questioner. "Know it and let it go on? But I suppose you've a right to ask me such a question."

"I guess I have," said Berny, but her voice did not have any assurance of her conviction on the subject. It sounded flat and spiritless.

"You have. You seem to me to have a right to say anything savage and angry and insulting. And I can only say to you I'm sorry, I'm sorry, and I ask your pardon—for me and for the others. And that doesn't make it any easier for you to bear—or do you any good."

A GREAT RECORD.

Hard to Duplicate It in Janesville

Scores of representative citizens of Janesville are testifying for Doan's Kidney Pills. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizen is but one of the many that have preceded it and the hundreds that will follow. Read it:

Mrs. Emilie Hell, 542 Franklin St., Janesville, Wis., says: "I suffered terribly from pains through the small of my back and limbs and I also had trouble from the kidney secretions. Someone finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did so, procuring them at the People's Drug Co. The contents of two or three boxes corrected my trouble. I hope that the publication of my statement will induce other kidney sufferers to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

(Statement given in August, 1908.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT.

Mrs. Hell was interviewed on September 23, 1910 and she said: "You may continue to publish my former statement regarding Doan's Kidney Pills. Since I used them two years ago, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine."

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, September 11, 1872.—Matrimonial: Last night witnessed a happy gathering at the residence of G. Veeder, of the Recorder in the second ward. The occasion was the marriage of his daughter, Libbie Veeder, and H. W. Lake of the late firm of Wheeler and Lake. The house was crowded with invited guests, friends of the bride and groom, and happiness reigned in the Veeder domicile. At half past nine o'clock the bridal party took position for the final ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Dr. Whiting, of the Congregational church. Miss Libbie Griffin, of Chicago, appeared as first and second bridesmaids, and J. L. Croft and Charles G. Veeder officiated in the capacity of groomsmen. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the usual congratulations followed, supplemented by a bountiful supper.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

BY WALT MASON

When'er man's heartstrings quiver with grief or discontent, he blames it on his liver or on the government. He either buys a bottle of bitters dark and sour, or says that we should throttle the party that's in power. Into his inner chasm he pours of dope a raft, or else he throws a spasm, and heaves a brick at Taft. He never says: "The trouble that looms up so immense, has got me folded double because I have no sense. It's fitting retribution, effect that follows cause, for making revolution against the saner laws. I loathed when others labored, I let my credit slump, I gossiped when my neighbor bled, my pump. Bad habits I contracted, my comrades all were cheap; a harvest of disaster I now am billed to reap." No fellow e'er confesses in such a wholesome strain, he tells of his distresses, his grief and mental pain as though he were a victim of fortune stern and grim; the gods came down and licked him—there's nothing wrong with him. His principles and morals are always all correct; he never indulged in quarrels with all things circumpect. No critic can deliver a blamish of this gent; the trouble's with his liver or else the government.

PASTEURIZED MILK SHOULD BE KEPT COLD UNTIL UTILIZED.

That pasteurization or sterilization of milk may do more harm than good is the opinion of Dr. Henry Dwight Chapin, authority on infant feeding. "Pasteurization kills most of the harmless bacteria," he says, "leaving a free field to some of the worst forms, which are often killed off by the harmless kinds" (when the milk is heated). "This is often seen," Dr. Chapin says, "when unsweetened, canned condensed milk is used. If the can is left open in a warm place it does not sour but putrefies, and becomes like tainted meat, which is often intensely poisonous." Some time ago I explained that when milk is pasteurized it should be kept at or below freezing temperature till it is used. Incomplete understanding of these facts explains the reason for the difference of opinion regarding the advisability of pasteurizing milk.

THE MEN WHO SUCCEED as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. PUBLIC IS ASKED TO AID IN THE MATTER

Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.
The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.
There are a number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.
Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted. All newspapers have this experience.
But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper and find its way into the columns.
The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.
